When declaring that you have a healthy interior product, it is necessary to back it up with certification. There are 2 primary certifications that you need to be aware of. The mill that makes our product has both:

- ▶ HPD
- ▶ EPD

1) HPD - (Health Product Declaration) is a standardized way of reporting the material contents of building products, and the health effects associated with these materials and can be used towards the LEED V4 MR credit.

2) EPD - are like executive summaries that show the environmental impact of products. Our product has certification from SCS Global Services. A verified EPD can earn your project credit for LEED v4.

HPD and EPDs are available upon request
